Sabine Lohf loves nature, and she loves arts and crafts. What could be more logical than connecting these two passions? Here, the world-famous handicrafts queen guides us through all four seasons and explores with us the unbelievable treasure chest that is the natural world: flower wreaths in spring, sand drawings in the summer, chestnut sculptures in fall and Christmas tree decorations out of wood and straw are all whipped up by hand in the blink of an eye. Large-format, brightly coloured picture collages invite even the smallest to discover and playfully experience the variety and beauty of nature. As in Lohf's previous "Big Book of Crafts and Playing," the creations are as practical as they are decorative.

- More than 100 arts and crafts ideas for every season and for big and small hands alike
- Seasonal creations for Easter, Halloween, Christmas and many other occasions
- Easy step-by-step instructions and sensuously designed picture collages
- With short portraits of natural arts & crafts treasures from pinecones to maple tree whirly birds
