

It's autumn at last! Time to be creative!

The leaves are falling, the birds are flying south, we're jumping in puddles or flying kites: no other time of year is so colourful or offers so many lovely handicraft materials, like chestnuts and pine cones. This book shows what we can craft with all the treasures fall has to offer. We can make witches' cottages out of pumpkins, weave princesses out of wheat stalks, stitch hearts made of rose hips, press leaves, paint rain pictures, sew felted mushrooms, fold paper pinwheels, turn milk containers into lanterns, and play shadow games.

4+

Julie Völk

Hurray!
Autumn is Here!

80 pages, fully coloured,
22 x 29 cm, flexcover
€ 13,00

Publication: June 2021

All rights available

Even the darkest autumn afternoon is an occasion for family fun with the help of the creative, child friendly craft ideas, games and songs in this book. Hurray, autumn is here!

@GerstenbergVerlag

@bookrightsgerstenberg

GERSTENBERG

www.gerstenberg-verlag.de

Sabine Lohf loved to colour and do arts and crafts as a child. She studied painting, graphic arts, and photography in Berlin and was an editor and graphic designer at the magazine Spielen und Lernen for five years. She oversees theatre projects and other activities with children, was a lecturer at the Wunstorf School of Art and has worked for over twenty years as a freelance graphic designer, photographer, and illustrator for numerous magazines and publishers. She is internationally recognized for her arts and crafts books.

www.sabine-lohf.de

