December is the loveliest month in the year – and certainly the most stressful, at least when planning gifts for everyone in a 41-person blended family. Even when that particular problem is solved (thanks to a lucky inspiration), there are lots of challenges to meet before all the Christmas trees, holiday meals and presents have reached their final destinations. But no matter how much hustle and bustle goes into the preparations, by the time of the snowball fight – complete with stale dumplings from Christmas dinner – everyone – robbers, princesses and dragon children alike – is filled with the Christmas spirit. This is an action-packed, jolly Christmas tale with enchanting highlights for everyone – not just blended families.
